The first anti-fatigue matting designed specifically for food production areas, Food-Zone is made from an anti-bacterial nitrile rubber composite resistant to vegetable oils, animal fats, citrus, even fish oil. Smooth drainage holes and underside design will not harbour food particles or bacteria, nor will the lightly textured surface that ensures adequate traction when greasy and wet. This product even has built-in handles to make handling and cleaning easier. Food-Zone is the perfect solution to the problem of standing fatigue in the food production industry.
