

supatrac is a unique ground covering designed to be incredibly durable and flexible. Available in two grades, supatrac creates a firm surface for walkways, roadways, temporary buildings and structures including heli-pads and car parks. Suitable for medium to heavy weights. supatrac is a unique ground covering designed to be incredibly durable and flexible. Suitable for medium to heavy weights. The lightweight panels can be laid in minutes with no need for tools or specialist expertise and can be left for 1 day or several years depending on your requirements. Edging ramps give easy vehicle access and eliminate trip hazards. supatrac is suitable for internal or external use and can support vehicles up to 3.5 tons per axle and even heavier static weights.

supatrac is excellent for environmentally sensitive areas. Each panel allows light, air and water to the ground below and because supatrac is exempt from British planning permission it is perfect for use as a temporary car park. supatrac has been extensively proven in the domestic, construction, industrial, and events industries. Used daily by leading military forces, including the British and US, it is even available with a NATO product number.
